music & lyrics REN PAUL

nobody knows
where the love goes
you stay with only one emotion
your eyes are empty,
your heart is sad
you are alone in the stormy ocean
nothing else left,
you cannot stand,
and you can't feel the friend's hand
the room is silent,
'tis dark in the hall,
 but there're the photos on the wall !

you want to shout
bitter'n'loud
no one can feel this your distortion
you lose your mind,
you're just blind
'cos no one cares of your devotion
you're going down,
sank in the sand
can't see around your friend lend you a hand
you have forgotten 'bout rock'n'roll
 look at the photos on the wall !

you was so young
and full of dreams
you had the power of creation now you're weak
and you're so tired
but want to try the same sensation just raise your head and look around the world is changed but you can try again the role
no more doubts,
send them to hell
 you have the photos on the wall !
