

RUNNING AWAY

music & lyrics REN PAUL *my heart is burning down in the flame it's always been for me a kind of a shame 'cos I was cryin' like a little child I've been loosing my mind look where the lonely people go an' my heart keeps telling me : no ! but if you stay by my side this could keep me satisfied but I'm running, running

running away
I can't hide myself, I know I'm gonna lose again*

*you've been talking always too much so that I couldn't keep in touch you couldn't see my soul in need while my heart was starting to bleed you never said what was on your mind god knows the words that you hide behind I hope you know what you're looking for I cannot give you more no more !
and I'm running, running
running away
I can't hide myself, I know
I'm gonna lose again*

*all my feelings I can't explain I never wanted to cause any pain I don't know why you treat me so you're gonna make me stand up n'go so I'm running, running
running away
I can't hide myself, I know
I'm gonna lose again*
